

Biographical Sketch

Lyman B. Kirkpatrick, Jr.
Inspector General, CIA

Mr. Kirkpatrick was born in Rochester, New York, and graduated from Princeton University in the School of Public and International Affairs. Prior to World War II he worked for the U.S. News Publishing Corporation, and during the war he served in OSS and on the staff of Gen. Omar Bradley's 12th U.S. Army Group as intelligence briefing officer. For his service in World War II he received the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star, European Theater Ribbon with five battle stars, and the French and Belgian Croix de Guerre. At the end of World War II he returned briefly to the U.S. News as an editor of "World Report" and then went into the CIA where he has been ever since. He has served in a variety of positions in that agency.

In March 1960 Mr. Kirkpatrick was chosen by the National Civil Service League as one of the ten outstanding career officers in the Federal Government.
